PORTFOLIO OVERVIEW

The portfolio seeks to provide a diversified interest in a variety of asset classes and the realistic prospect of capital growth and income over the longer term within acceptable risk parameters. Importantly, we expect little correlation between equities, bonds and selected alternative asset classes so the portfolio should provide some degree of protection during periods of equity market weakness.

The portfolio is invested through a mix of five specialist Waverton funds: Sterling Bond Fund, Global Core Equity Fund, Tactical Equity Fund, Absolute Return Fund and the Real Assets Fund.

COMMENTARY

We are very pleased with the returns that we have generated in 2020 and see them as "proof of concept" of our particular style of investing. The core portfolios rose by between 3.9% and 7.5% in the fourth quarter which pushed the gains for the year to between 8.9%, for Defensive mandates and 13.5% for Growth. These annual returns compare extremely favourably to our peer group and represent relative out-performance of between 4.4% and 8.7%.

The ability to dynamically hedge in our portfolios has added huge value this year and the fixed income managers made, and continue to make, full use of this. As a result, our fixed income component was able to outperform UK Govt Bonds with volatility of around half of that of the Gilt index. Most notably, we avoided the drawdown in March seen by most of our peers as they suffered the effects of spread duration – the combination of long duration and widening spreads.

Within equities we had a good year, if you exclude the Protection Strategy. If you include it, it was better still. In broad terms our equities, excluding cash and protection, outperformed the MSCI AC World Index. Geographic allocation was a bit of a headwind as we were underweight the US market which, driven by a handful of Tech giants, again led the way. However stock selection was positive and more than offset this. Some stand out names in absolute terms being TSMC, Driehaus US Micro Cap, Apple & Fidelity China Special Situations all rising north of 65%. However the top contributor to relative performance was the Protection Strategy which added 4.5% relative to the MSCI AC World.

Real Assets finished the year strongly. The sustained recovery from the extreme volatility seen in the early part of the year has been pleasing. Whilst share prices remained volatile the underlying NAV, earnings and income from the majority of our holdings were remarkably stable over the course of the year. This was rewarded with discounts narrowing considerably having widened dramatically in March.

Over the course of 2020 the Absolute Return Fund continued to display the desired low risk profile ending 2020 with a positive return of 0.7% with an annualised volatility of just 2.7%. It is pleasing to note the fund has now delivered 2.5% since the strategy change in Feb 2019 and managed to navigate one of the steepest bear markets in history and subsequent recoveries while continuing to meet stated objectives.

As ever we are positioned to participate well should markets continue to push on but, being aware of the growing risks, we are grateful for our ability to hedge.
